

The Troubles

In Northern Ireland—before, during, and after the Troubles—religion, ethnicity, and politics have been deeply intertwined. Why do you think that is the case? Can you think of any other historical or current events in which the association of religion, ethnicity, and politics has led to conflict? Explain your answer in two to three paragraphs.

Name	_ Date