Trade Wars

TIERNEY:

Many things that say “Made in China” will now be more expensive in the US. And many things that say “Made in the USA” will be harder to sell in China. That’s ’cause the US and China are going back and forth, tit-for-tat, in a trade war. Both sides are slapping the other with tariffs — taxes that target goods from just one country. The Trump administration says taxing Chinese goods is the only way to fairly let American companies compete. Others argue that this trade war will hit American consumers the hardest.
